Item 2.06. Material Impairments.

On September 8, 2006, Zapata Corporation, a Nevada corporation (“Zapata” or “the Company”), the 58% stockholder of Omega Protein Corporation, a Nevada corporation (“Omega”), entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement (the “Purchase Agreement”), pursuant to which (i) Omega agreed to acquire from Zapata 9,268,292 shares (the “Shares”) of the common stock, par value $.01 per share (the “Omega Common Stock”), of Omega held by Zapata at a purchase price of $5.125 per share for an aggregate purchase price of $47,500,000 (the “Purchase Price”) and (ii) Zapata granted to Omega an option (the “Option”) to acquire all of the shares of Omega Common Stock held by Zapata on the date of the exercise of such option at a purchase price of $4.50 per Option Share (the “Option Purchase Price”). Subject to certain conditions, the Option will be exercisable during the period beginning 270 days after the closing (the “Closing”) of the Purchase Agreement and ending 390 days after the Closing (the “Option Exercise Period”). The Company presently holds 14,501,000 shares of Omega Common Stock.

Based on the $5.125 per share value implied by the contemplated sale under the Purchase Agreement, the Company concluded on September 21, 2006 that it expects to record an estimated impairment charge of approximately $6.1 million, net of tax effects, in the third quarter of fiscal 2006 with respect to its Omega Common Stock. This includes an estimated impairment charge on the remaining 5,232,708 shares of approximately $3.6 million, net of taxes, which would be recorded in accordance with SFAS No. 144, “Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets.”

The exact amount of the total impairment recognized will depend upon a number of factors and will not be known until the conclusion of the sale of all of the Company’s shares of Omega Common Stock. First, Omega’s financial statements will continue to be consolidated with Zapata’s until the Closing. Generally, the ultimate loss recognized on the transaction will increase (decrease) as Zapata consolidates net income (loss) related to Omega’s operations. Subsequent to the Closing, Zapata will own approximately 33% of Omega’s common stock and will account for its remaining investment in Omega under the equity method.

Second, the amount of the impairment on the remaining shares will be affected by the price at which Zapata ultimately agrees to sell the remaining shares. Zapata plans to actively seek purchasers for its remaining 5,232,708 Omega shares at a price of $4.50 per share or higher. If Zapata enters into an agreement to sell the remaining shares at a price above or below $5.125 per share prior to reporting its results for the third quarter of fiscal 2006, Zapata would be required to decrease or increase, as appropriate, its impairment charge recognized during the third quarter.

The impairment charge to be recognized in fiscal 2006 will not result in the expenditure of cash.

More information about potential factors that could affect Zapata's business and financial results is included under the heading "Risk Factors" contained in Zapata's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2005 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and in subsequent reports filed with the SEC, all of which are available at the SEC's website at <http://www.sec.gov>.
